ALWAYS THE MOTHER WILL FIND BEAUTY EVEN IF HER CHILD IS UGLY. SHE WILL ALWAYS FEEL PLEASURE IN BEARING ANY PAIN DUE TO HER CHILD. ANY MOTHER WILL GIVE LOVE EXPECTING NOTHING IN RETURN FROM HER CHILD.

- KAMAKSHI BABA

In the previous issue we covered an instance of how Guruji gave relief to two devotees having dreams about a small girl. The girl had died an unnatural death. The spirit of the girl was troubling them.

Here we refer to another instance, more notorious in its contours.

The incident happened in Hyderabad and relates to the year 1981. It had slowly become a talking point. In Hyderabad, at KundanBagh in Begumpet area, the road leading to Methodist Colony slopes down. Next to this slopey part of the road, lies an open ground and there is a very old tree proliferating with several branches. At midnight, passers-by on two wheelers started facing an unusual threat – being thrown off the vehicle by two ladies dressed in white sarees.

At first the passers-by who were victimised did not know how to explain this as the two ladies would ‘disappear’ after the happening. It was difficult to correlate the accident to the two ladies due to this. But with the number of incidents cumulating, it did seem genuine that two spirits – both ladies- would make a nocturnal appearance on that deserted road around midnight and wreak havoc on passers-by.

As you would have it, Yadagiri Rao and his wife Jagadeshwari, devotees of Guruji and DMS members, had this experience. The last thing they would have dreamt of was being on the hit list of the two spirits. Yadagiri Rao was riding back home late that night with his wife in pillion. A very disciplined scooterist who drives at a moderate speed, even he got a rude shock as he drove down the slope on the road. From nowhere, suddenly two ladies appeared, dressed in white sarees and stood right in front and it was impossible to avoid hitting them. Caught completely off-guard, he slammed his foot on the brakes. The next thing he and his wife knew is the scooter overturned and they were hurled off the scooter on the road. The sound of the crash, and the high-pitched scream from both of them might have resonated loudly in the neighbourhood but there was no helping hand. They slowly called out to each other and helped each other to get up from the road and collect themselves. They examined the vehicle – marginally dented but it was motorable. Luckily they were not injured.

Where were the two ladies? The ladies were nowhere to be seen. Was it an illusion? Then what made them brake the scooter so hard? Slowly it hit them as they recollected the gossip in the neighbourhood about two white-saree clad ghosts. The shock of falling from the scooter was nothing compared to the shock of realising they had indeed encountered the ghosts. Hurriedly clambering back onto the scooter, they sped away at top gear from the spot to their home and sighed a breath of relief only after they hastily bolted the door from inside.

Jagadeshwari had clearly decided for the next day, the top-most item on the agenda –she must narrate this uncanny happening to Vimala, wife of S.P.L.Narasimhan, her good friend and neighbour. Vimala in turn narrated this to Guruji who was camping in Hyderabad then. Guruji got into prayers. After finishing His prayers, He explained to Vimala and Jagadeshwari that the two spirits were that of two ladies who had been killed in an accident near the tree and their spirits would rest in the branches of the tree. At midnight, they would wreak havoc on passers-by. Guruji visited the spot and with His prayers brought the spirits under control. He instructed them to stop the menace. Later, He mentioned to these devotees that He had given salvation to the two spirits.

After this action of Guruji we are informed that no further incidents were reported and the road became very safe.

Of the various miracles of Guruji, if one were to attempt some kind of a classification, this would fall under ‘Spirits, black magic and witchcraft’. Several are the instances dealt with by Guruji. Guruji also directs the spirits to seek remedies for themselves and spiritual enlightenment. In one case He told the spirit to migrate to Varanasi and stay on the banks of the Ganga. He asked the spirit to float on the water bed at nights and come to the bank during day time. He said at the Ganga at Varanasi several elevated souls and spiritual personalities are in deep prayers. They bless and through them the spirit gets salvation.

Holy sindoor from the temple of Lord Hanuman from Sankat Vimochan temple, Varanasi is being sent along with the hard copy of Satsanga.

Report from Doctor's Desk

Case Study of a patient at our Centre:

This is a second case presented by Dr. Geetha Badrinath. The first one was given in the previous issue of Satsanga as part of her Feb. 19th presentation.

This case relates to a serious ailment of the eye.

A case of “Glaucoma” was detected in a 8 year old girl child called Ramya. This girl was doing badly at school getting low marks. Finally she even refused to go to school. She could not see the board or her books. The letters were ‘jumping’ and in addition she had severe headache. She was diagnosed to have “Glaucoma” in the government ophthalmic hospital and was told that a surgery was required. Dr. Geetha sent the child to an eye Hospital. The doctor agreed with the diagnosis about Glaucoma, but said a surgery was not required. Some simple drops were prescribed and slowly the eye pressure returned to normal. Headaches ceased to occur and vision was restored to normal. Ramya started attending school and her performance in school is better than before.
